History

The California Board of Psychology (BOP) was established in 1958 when the first psychologists were certified in the State. In 1967, the Psychology Licensing Law was enacted by the Legislature which: 1) defined and protected the practice of psychology, 2) protected the title “Psychologist,” and 3) changed certification to licensure.

It was at this time that regulatory boards shifted their primary focus to protection of the public. The BOP is one of approximately 30 regulatory entities which exist under the organizational structure of the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA). The BOP has a close and cooperative relationship with DCA.

Board Structure

Members

The BOP consists of nine members (five psychologists and four public members) who may serve a maximum of two consecutive four-year terms. The Governor appoints the five psychologists and two public members. Another public member is appointed by the Senate Rules Committee, and the fourth by the Speaker of the Assembly. Public members cannot be licensed by the BOP or by any other Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) healing arts board. Board members are required to complete a Form 700—Conflict of Interest Statement, and they are required to submit this statement to the Fair Political Practices Commission each year. Additionally, Board members are required to complete ethics training every two years.

Executive Officer

The BOP appoints an Executive Officer as its administrator, who serves to carry out the mission of the BOP to protect consumers of psychological services in California. The Executive Officer oversees the Board's staff and ensures that all of its programs function efficiently and effectively.

Funding

The BOP is funded through license, application, and examination fees. The Board receives no General Fund monies from the State of California.

Licenses

Psychologist

An individual who is licensed as a psychologist may practice psychology independently. To become licensed, one must possess a doctoral degree in psychology, successfully complete 3,000 hours of qualifying supervised professional experience, pass the national Examination for Professional Practice in Psychology (EPPP), and pass the California Psychology Supplemental Examination (CPSE), and pay the required fee. Applicants who have been licensed in another state, Canadian province, or U.S. territory for at least five years, including applicants who hold a Certificate of Professional Qualification (CPQ) issued by the Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB), are credentialed as a Health Service Provider in Psychology by the National Register of Health Service Providers in Psychology, or who are certified by the American Board of Professional Psychology, are not required to take the EPPP or the CPSE. These applicants must take and pass the California Psychology Law and Ethics Examination (CPLEE). A psychologist must complete 36 hours of approved continuing education every two years and pay the required fee.

Psychological assistant

Psychological assistant is a training category for unlicensed individuals who are registered to a psychologist or to a board-certified psychiatrist as an employee to provide limited psychological services under direct supervision. A psychological assistant can work a maximum of 72 months in the classification.

To register as a psychological assistant, an individual must possess at least a qualifying master's degree.

Registered psychologists

Registered psychologists are permitted to function at non-profit community agencies that receive at least 25 percent of their funding from some governmental source. Registered psychologists may not function outside of this restricted and specifically defined setting. Registered psychologists must possess a doctoral degree which meets licensure requirements and must have completed at least 1,500 hours of qualifying supervised professional experience. The registration shall be in effect for 30 months from the time of registration and shall not be renewed. Registered psychologists shall at all times be under the primary supervision of a qualified psychologist.

Objectives and Activities

Credentials and Licensing

Ensure the professional qualifications and competence of all applicants and licensees.

Outcome

Qualified licensees.

The BOP ensures that those entering the profession of psychology are competent to practice psychology independently, pursuant to section 101.6 of the California Business and Professions Code. This is achieved by requiring applicants for licensure to possess a qualifying doctorate degree, by requiring the completion of a minimum of 3,000 hours of qualifying supervised professional experience, by examination, and by taking additional coursework on mandated topics.

Objectives

L-1 Ensure accurate and timely processing of all applications.

Activities

Monitor weekly licensing reports to address any potential backlog.

L-2 Review qualifications for licensure.

Activities

Ensure that regulations concerning licensure are clear, properly defined, up-to-date, and reflect current professional standards.

L-3 Clearly communicate the required qualifications for licensure through publications, Web updates, and outreach.

Activities

Develop outreach programs for Board members and Executive staff to speak at schools and professional associations regarding qualifications and process of licensure.

Regularly update information regarding licensure.

Examinations

Ensure a valid and reliable examination process to assess professional knowledge.

Outcome

A valid and reliable examination process.

The Board requires each license applicant to take the national Examination for Professional Practice in Psychology (EPPP) and any qualifying California examination. All required examinations must be passed before a license can be issued. The Board collaborates with DCA's Office of Professional Examination Services (OPES) to ensure that the Board's licensing examinations comply with section 139 of the Business and Professions Code.

Activities

Work with examination vendors to administer and secure the Board's examinations.

X-3 Develop and maintain up-to-date California psychology examinations.

Outcome

Increased public protection.

The BOP's enforcement program is focused on protecting consumers of psychological services from exploitive, incompetent, or potentially dangerous licensees, or from unlicensed individuals. The BOP investigates and responds to consumer complaints. Complaints may be dismissed or may result in a letter of education, citations and fine, or disciplinary action, including reprimand, probation, suspension, or revocation. By law, proven sexual misconduct with a client will result in mandatory license revocation.

Objectives

ENF-1 Ensure timely and accurate responses to complaints.

Activities

Manage each stage of the complaint process within mandated timeframes.
